Fit out of an apartment in the Republic 2 development by Burton, Katon, Halliday. It is a single space, 13 metres deep with a single aspect overlooking a courtyard with a swimming pool. The challenge was to bring light through the space and to create a single fluid space that would accommodate a flexible modern lifestyle. An animated curved wall separates public living from private space. The wall modulates domestic life forming a backdrop to a sequence of kitchen, dining, formal seating and balcony area. Its layered, textured finish is by the artist Brendan Lakin. A low curved entry screen invites and prepares visitors for the experience.
